COLLECTION 2018

SCANDINAVIAN CHRISTMAS 2018

It was during a trip to Norway that David Holder met talented pastry Chef Sverre Saetre. Already a household name in his country, he established his own pâtisserie store in 2004 and has written many books on pâtisserie and chocolate whilst appearing on cooking programmes for almost 12 years. He has won prestigious awards such as the World Cooking Contest in 2006 and the Culinary Olympics in 2008.

David Holder was won over by his boundless energy and the values he shares with Ladurée, such as audacity, excellence and generosity.

So, in inviting Sverre Saetre to share his creativity and expertise, Ladurée's president wanted to bring Father Christmas into his stores with an exclusive "Nordic collection".

This collection will be adorned in red, white and gold with motifs emblematic of Scandinavia, a perfect blend of modernity, elegance and tradition.

The MACARONS

In sharing his childhood memories with the chefs at Ladurée, Sverre Saetre has inspired them to create three exclusive macaron recipes, with ingredients commonly used in Nordic countries.

All of our macarons are gluten free.

THE RICE PUDDING AND RASPBERRY MACARON

Rice pudding is a traditional Christmas dessert in Nordic countries. Inspired by this culinary custom, Ladurée has invented a macaron made from creamy rice pudding with a hint of raspberry.

THE SEA BUCKTHORN MACARON

Sea buckthorn is a small, acidic and fragrant berry. It is rich in vitamins A and C and a natural antioxidant. Here Ladurée has taken this traditional idea and turned it into a delicious macaron.

THE “BROWN CHEESE” MACARON

It is impossible to go to Norway without trying “brown cheese”, a traditional cheese that is still hand made in some villages . It is called “Brunost” and is part of the country’s culinary tradition. With a light caramelized flavor, it is mostly eaten on waffles for breakfast or as an afternoon snack.

Here, Ladurée is immersing you in Norwegian tradition with this macaron that is both unique and flavorful, garnished with shards of crispy waffle.

2 - Gift box of 14 macarons - $48

YULE LOGS

THE “TINE” SIGNATURE YULE LOG

Taking his inspiration from the customs of his country, Chef Sverre Saetre has created a unique yule log, in the form of a traditional wooden box, the “Tine”, pronounced “Tiné”. In Norway, this box is often used to carry pastries and other confectionery for family meals or big family events.

This red and white dessert is adorned with “The Selburose”, an 8-pointed star inspired by the rose from the town of Selbu. The “Tine” log is based on typical Norwegian flavors: a rice pudding ganache, spiced cherry compote and a rose-flavored mousse are arranged on layers of almond dacquoise and macadamia praline. As a finishing touch to his creation, Sverre Saetre has added a golden pastille signed “God Jul” to wish us a “Happy Holidays” in his native tongue.

“Tine” signature yule log

Available from December 5th (individual yule log) and from December 19th (yule log 6/8 people)

EPIPHANY

Ladurée's traditional epiphany cake is made from crispy puff pastry topped with almond cream and sprinkled with chopped almonds. It too has a Nordic feel this year with a collection of the traditional "lucky charms" paying tribute to Scandinavian symbols: a five-point star, an 8-point star representing the "Selburose", a snowflake and a white goat known as "julebuk" in Norway; in reference to a Christmas norwegian tradition. Four unique, fine creations to collect.
